BrainStorm, Into The Never

You know it's much too late, 'cause your destination ends ahead where the water turns to steam into a suicide machine

Capture the moment before it's gone You've got the strength to carry on Not always knowing, what's wrong or right Your only choice is to decide

I'm back to take for you the blame Here to receive for you the shame into the never

Fingers of fire, coal and lead Fondly love me till you're dead Now you never will believe You're dying to leave

Don't you feel my twisted mind All you got is hate for mankind Caught in a spiral, into the black No need to see, cause I'll be back!
