

BrainStorm, Under My Wing (Is Your Sweet Home)

Just for one short day, please, let us go, I pray
To the end of the world, to some place to get far, far away Where the evil give in and has to lose face but the rest warm their hands by the fireplace Like at the dawn of time - people in dugouts and caves

No walls, no houses
in my empty hometown,
not a single gateway, but you know
Darling, under my wing is your sweet, sweet home
Darling, under my wing is your sweet, sweet home

Just for one short day, trust me again, I pray Here's all my robes and you - take off all yours Both naked no passports or titles, man and his wife, like before J. Christ - Adam, Eve and their life

No walls, no houses
in my empty hometown,
not a single gateway, but you know
Darling, under my wing is your sweet, sweet home
Darling, under my wing is your sweet, sweet home

One more twinkle, you're gone somewhere, I can't see you, but I know where you are Dance or an airplane, you are begging me : "Come for a dance"
Let it be, this is our final dance
I just close my eyes and we fall
Only sky, only sky, let the world be without us tonight..

No walls, no houses
in my empty hometown,
not a single gateway, but you know
Darling, under my wing is your sweet, sweet home
Darling, under my wing is your sweet, sweet home
