

Brenda Lee, You Always Hurt The One You Love

You always hurt you hurt the one you love the one you shouldn't turn at all
You always take ah you take the sweetest rose and crash it till the petals fall
You always break you break the kindest heart with the hasty words you can't recall
So if if I broke your heart last night it's because I love you I love you most of all
I bet that you always break you always break the kindest heart
With the hasty words you can't ah you can't recall
So if so if I broke your heart last night it's because I love you most of all
