

Brettell, Inside Siri

and I'll give up this thing to stop them cause I know that I'm hurting right now (inside) I'm the closest to caring that they'll ever be and I don't know want to go on right now all I can feel is the moment the moment I realized they lied the sooner the later that I died (inside) I just don't want to be here right now and I don't want the world to tease me cause I know they don't understand when everything seems to be perfect I just don't see my-self in that way and I cant hide the tears that are falling or the moment when truths becomes lies when my life feels like a movie I'm just pleased the star role is alive

and I don't want the world to tease me
I just don't see my-self in that way, and I don't want the world to tease me cause I know they don't understand

I just don't see my-self in that way (x3)
