

Brian Jonestown Massacre, Seer

Here's something for you to put down
I'll write it if you spell it out

I left you alone before you were gone I've been, I've been playing along

to put down
You never heard me coming but when I leave it will make an awful sound

I've been playing along but now, and now I'm gone I've gone, and left this song but I leave the ending up to you

Here's something that you could never take down not every sudden sound that drops below the water drowns

but now, and now I'm gone
but I leave the ending up to you
the ending up to you
the ending up to you
