

Brian May, Why Dont We Try Again

(Brian May)

After the storm there's the dead of night
It seems there's no way back for me
So little comfort in my lonely bed
To know
That it had to be

And now I miss you in so many ways
You know I miss you for so many
Lonely days
Oh!
Why don't we try again

In the dark there's a desert flower
It blooms where no-one ever sees
Our love was stronger than history
Our love will never cease to be
How can I live with you-as-a memory
You hold
The best part of me - oh -

And now I miss you in so many ways
You know I miss you for so many
Lonely days
Oh!
Why don't we try again

No use me waiting by the telephone
You're gone -
It ain't gonna ring

And now I miss you in so many ways
You know I miss you for so many
Lonely lonely days and nights
I know you miss me for so many
Lonely days
Oh!
Why don't we try again
Oh!
Why don't we try again!
