

Brian McKnight, Still In Love

I think I must be dreaming
That you are here with me
Must have died and gone to heaven
And it's all that I hoped it would be

Chorus 1:

When the eagles forget how to fly
And it's twenty below in July
And when violets turn red
And roses turn blue
I'll be still in love with you

I live to be around you
You take my breath away
Can't help but talk about you
Every night and day

Chorus 2:

And when eagles forget how to fly
When it's twenty below in July
And when violets turn red
And roses turn blue
I'll be still in love with you

All I need is you
Need you just to hold me, console me
Over and over,.....I Love You...
