Brian Setzer, Chains Around Your Heart

It's a late cool autumn evening
And the sunset melts into night
With a v-twin throbbing beneath me
And my head's spinning allright
Ritchie and me we started as kids
In a rock 'n' roll band on the street where we lived
It's a long hard ride till the morning
As the trees and wind start to sing

Chains around your heart that bind Break away and leave them behind

Well once there was a time in this rock 'n' roll dream This here town would be rip apart at the seams Now I'm out of money and billy's out of work Eddie's pushin' pencils for the county clerk Everybody's job is getting pushed out of town Life is just knockin' 'em down Boyhood dreams are run into the ground Long dark shadows hang over this town

Cast away the chains that bleed Break away and I leave you free

Take my hand come leave with me As nighttime fades away We'll ride the hills and desert sand Cross the barren land

All the families have all gone
Their jobs went before them I'm sure
They knocked down the corner barber shop
And put up a super triple level parking lot
There once was a time you could vote for a man
Who wouldn't try and stick a gun in your hands
So cut out all your talkin'
And make love with me through the night

Chains around your heart that bind Break away and leave them behind Just leave them behind Just leave them behind
