

Brie Larson, Invisible Girl

I don't think you know my name
I'm the invisible girl
Trapped in thoughts about me and u
I don't know where to take this
Can u give me a clue, what should i do

And I'm standing here, patiently
And I'm waiting for u to see, me
Toss my hair, my intriguing stare
Everything that should make you care
But I'm the invisible girl

So many times u looked my way
I'm the invisible girl
That u have just not never seemed to see
I wish you'd open up your eyes and see me 4 me
And all we can be

I'm not no j lo or miss spears
I'm just a girl who disappears
Every time you walk my way
I just don't know what to say...

Go to the beach and run through the rain
Stretch beyond your reach. take a flight to Spain
Can't u see how great it'd be
If you could just only see
I'm not the invisible girl
