

Bright Eyes, Let The Distance Keep Us

Its so easy to say you dont care
Its so easy to say you dont need it You got it all you know now every day you feel a bit less when you get dressed by yourself and assume its just yourself you could know? (this part i dont know) and there is just so much you could know? and i say let the distance bring us together again do do do di doo take a picture
let the light in on the exposure in the dark who knows what we'll find and if its not yours i cant say if its mine oh just make it soft set it right now, take some blame when your right dont you forget what you are you are the one that brings the best of us out nothing else but, nothing else but let the distance bring us together again out on your own you make your own satisfy your own self you dont have to think you dont watch your back you stink, you lack you got the right
do do di do
you got it all and you know
