Brighter Colours, Magnolia

The night she took me home The trees were in full bloom In the whites of her eyes There was light and surprise

Magnolia, Magnolia I know we are, I know we are

And her mouth so pure but vain Never once spoke my name We were cold, warm within In our coats for summer winds

Magnolia, Magnolia I know we are, I know we are

Magnolia Magnolia Magnolia Magnolia

As the sun began to pry At a rosy morning sky She was gone, and I grinned Just glad to have been

Magnolia, Magnolia I know we are, I know we are

Magnolia Magnolia Magnolia Magnolia