

Broadways, T.V. Song

I've seen the stupid stare on thousands of our faces watched my thoughts carelessly fall away while I fumbled for the right words to say my brain is such a mish-mash of mtv videos and vast and vacant spaces.
And I look around and see 1000 drooling idiots just the fkin' same as me.
We've been weened on Mr. Rogers we all worship the tv that sucks our fkin' imaginations from our heads and no one wants to see the generation of zombies in their fkin' sick parade marching forward to the beat of "house of style" and "singled out"; but i flip to it the same as you bored shitless on my couch And why am i bored?
it's because when i was growing up i saw everything played out and i could flip the channel tirelessly and since I was so capable my attention span shrunk to fit to the point where I reject things that aren't synthetic blobs of shit I want an easy answer I need a fkin' catch all phrase I don't have the time or the patience to read a book and figure shit out for myself when it's spelled out for me as pain as fkin' day and with pretty flashing lights and sounds to keep me entertained.
I'm like a dog trained by a box "like" and "totally" fill my day and "i think i'm going crazy man," has become fking cliché and i think I'm going crazy or was i just raised that way and I think hard about nothing as I stare off into space 'cause we need to turn our heads on 'cause our brains are getting soft, so exercise your brain and turn the tv fkin' off, whoa.
