

Bruce Dickinson, King in crimson

In the darkness, the raven's head In the courtyard clothed in fear I see gates that are opening Ther