

Bruce Dickinson, Starchildren

I came from nothing before nothing began broke the window of existence and became a man
No sin for fame, for fools, my star is black and burned
I tilt towards the light, I suck your souls into my might
CHORUS:

We're star children

Coming out of nowhere and to nowhere return

Star children

A hundred million souls sucked out in one breath

I shiver at the threshold of your waking hour

The knowledge that you seek is my source of power

I live apart from you but I know the things you do

No angel can save you, how, you don't need a god cause I'm here now

REPEAT CHORUS

Do I fulfil your deepest needs, The prophecy?

I am the ruler that you seek, so come to me

Come to me

SOLO

Star children

I'm the ruler of existence in your space and time

Star children

To penetrate your future is my only crime

Star
