

Bryan Adams, Tonight We Have The Stars

We'll save ourselves a bottle,
Of California red,
We'll drink it on a Tuesday,
Let it go straight to our heads.

And we'll eat from good china,
And make love on linen sheets,
Just like there's no tomorrow,
No surrender, no retreat - Yeah.

I can feel it in my bones,
And I know it in my heart,
Tomorrow may be rainin', but tonight we have the stars,
We may always be together,
Or miles and miles apart,
Tomorrow may be rainin', but tonight we have the stars - Yeah.

We were young and we were foolish,
We were easy to deceive,
Said we'd be in love forever,
And it was easy to believe.

Well you and I we had our moments,
Our devils and our doubts,
But the time we spend together - Yeah,
We gotta make it count.

I can feel it in my bones,
And I know it in my heart,
Tomorrow may be rainin', but tonight we have the stars - Yeah,
We may always be together,
Or miles and miles apart,
Tomorrow may be rainin', but tonight we have the stars - Yeah.

So let's hold on to this moment,
'cause it's all we've really got - Yeah!

I can feel it in my bones,
And I know it in my heart,
Tomorrow may be rainin', but tonight we have the stars,
We may always be together,
Or miles and miles apart,
Tomorrow may be rainin', but tonight we have the stars - Yeah.

I can feel it in my bones,
And I know it in my heart,
Tomorrow may be rainin', but tonight we have the starts - Yeah.

Oh yeah, tonight we have the stars.
