

Buck 65, Frame And Fork

Frame and fork lyrics:

Cracked foundations leaking its a fact that attracts rats mold grows, and that shit is whack cause like, I need a space thats common theroyal and chilled for me to write, but we need the raw materials to build and the right mixture ,of light fixtures and extra large windows of opportunity. where those of our community, come to pay a visit you treat em properly, while you break down the science on the property value.
The buildings sick and dieing with a first class infection if the health board people come well never pass inspection the vital sides been neglected calling off broken let me do the talking cuz Im calm and soft spoken and buck 65 interior design should be simple and elegant superior to the minds of the criminal element unless you include graph writers but still guys are marking places for parking spaces before the floor is re-enforced not even to mention boards are hammered in wrong and with this tangle of extension chords the next thing you know the roof will be on fire killed in the smoke and the flames that engulf the entire building the carpenter soul that wants the ability the stain must first live up to the ability of keeping the premises safe from any nemeses or foreigner that would only paint himself into a corner
