

Buckingham Nicks, Frozen Love

You may not be as strong as me
And I may not care to teach you
It may be hard to keep up with me
But I'll always be able to reach you

And if you go forward, I'll meet you there
And if you climb up through the cold freezing air
Look down below you search out above
And cry out to life for a frozen love

Life gave me you; the change was made
And there's no beginning over
You are not happy but what is love
Hate gave you me for a lover

And if you go forward, I'll meet you there
And if you climb up through the cold freezing air
Look down below you search out above
And cry out to life for a frozen love
