

Buddhuza, Only Thing I Know

I didn't know it,
I saw it,
I saw it,
That's all.

I didn't want it,
I owned it,
I owned it,
You know.

But my dreams were thoughts of yours that cut like knife,
And you're dreaming all my life.

I didn't know it,
I'm growing,
I'm growing,
I'm grown.

It isn't showing,
It's knowing,
It's knowing,
You know.

And the more you get to know your puzzled mind,
The more it's hard to find,
It's turning upside down.

But I hate to let you go,
It's the only thing I know.
