

Buddy Jewell, One In A Row

Am I dreaming or is that the morning sunlight shining in?
I can't believe it,
I was so sure my world was coming to an end.
I may never live to see the day your memory lets me go.
But i made it through the night
And That's one in a row

My heart's still beating even though it's broken right in two
So the odds are even there still some hope that I'll get over you Will I make it through the day? Girl it's hard to say I just don't know.
But I made it through the night. that's one in a row

One less endless night without you missing everything about you until dawn one more sunrise to remind me to leave yesterday behind cuz it's gone
This is only the beginning, I've got a lifetime to go
But I made it through the night
That's one in a row

Will I make it through the day?
Girl, it's hard to say I just don't know
But I made it through the night
And that's one in a row

Yeah, I made it through the night
That's one in a row
