

Built To Spill, Happiness

haven't had a half a hand in half of what i am haven't heard of half the things that happened in the past haven't givin half the time to half the people and half the things i planned you don't have to be so cruel, cause all i do is a little less than what i can happiness'll only happen when it can
haven't had the half a mind to stay, to start to take a stand haven't held on half as long as i had hoped, as i had hoped and planned haven't missed half the shit they said i'd have to have to have a chance you don't have to be so cruel, cause all i do's a little less than what i can
