

Built To Spill, Three Years Ago Today

the other night i dreamt about a sudden realization that everything bad that can happen to me would woke up screaming god i hope i'm not bleeding out my eyes or mouth when i die i have seen a sheepish wonder i see me three years ago today no one's gonna push my buttons no one's gonna have their say a little while later i was trying to remember but then it didn't seem quite as awful as it seemed can't believe i won't admit that i have seen a sheepish wonder
no one's gonna have their way feel about the same but i'm 10 years older watched my cat die for a month now i have seen a sheepish wonder i saw you earlier today
