

Bunny Wailer, Scheme Of Things

What are you doing toward the scheme of things
What are your words to your brother beings
What are you doing toward the scheme of things
What are your works toward your brother beings
Now let the truth shine bright through all your actions
As you strive toward the accomplishment of your missions
As you seek to feed the sheep of the shepherd
You'll be found worthy to enter into Jah vineyards
But there is too much pollution in the land
Said I need some atmospheric vibration.
Too much confusion The whole world is suffering from illusions
But Redemption stands within the Scheme of things
The Redeemer is called the King of Kings
Who purifies the soul from unclean things,
So know your place within the scheme of things.
Wise ones will hear and will increase their learnings
From the words of the wise and their Bright sayings,
Now how long ye simple ones will ye love simplicities you'd better rise and awake from your slumbering mentalities.
For the wind of desperation will increase crime-waves and demonstrations
But the rock of discretion will calm the floods of conflict and convictions.
So what are you doing toward the scheme of things
What are your words to your brother beings
What are you doing, toward the scheme of things.
What are your works forward your Brother Beings.
