Burden Brothers, Your Fault

This is all your fault, she said, your troubles and your tears
This is all your fault and you and me all ends right here
Did I let you down
Did I let you walk away
Everything we make we break apart

This is what you get, the lies politely disappear
Did you forget the way we carried on for years
Did I let you down
Did I let you walk away
Everything we make we break apart
And it's all your fault