

Burden Of A Day, My Shelter

Go to a safe place
Escape the same fate
Go to a safe place
So you can save face
They stole your halo
Under painted skies
And like an angel
With the devil in their eyes
This city loves you
Why did you have to go
This city loves you
What happened here
Well never know
To kill the monster
That has never shown its face
This ghost that haunts you
Left an imprint that you cant erase
Hit the lights and lock the doors
Under blankets well stay warm
Hit the lights well brave the storm
And bleed forgiveness till its gone
Be still stay low
I know well make it out
Be still and know
That God knows your worth dying for
Burning questions without an answer
God still knows your here.
