

Busta Rhymes, Apologize

[Busta Rhymes]

Even though I know anything is possible, I never thought this was, and as sweet as a cup of peppermint

I'm sorry that you had to go and lose your head, you coulda did the right thing but instead you made you made a choice and it's all goodie but you shoulda never chose to do the wrong thing to me now why oh why oh why as I think to myself and I wonder why you do it did you have to go and compromise

I ain't never know that I would live to regret those words that you should always forgive and forget but

I was so good for ya I was good with ya so good to ya I was so good in ya, so good that I would never

Damn I wish ya had a little better value for all the things that we been through, I don't even wanna let

Sometimes it could happen, maybe our stars just never aligned through astrology, and as much as

I'm gone
