

Butch Walker, This Is The Sweetest Little Song

i can only keep this feeling for a minute can only stare at a polaroid so long before the chromofilm blurs and the smiles on our faces are gone i crossed a line 5 yrs in the making that the biggest eraser cant clear and im rewinding everytime i whispered that in your ear as i laid on you and your naked body looked just like i wanted it to and i wanna be the inspiration for your room going silent i wanna feel you erupt when i play your song i wanna move you to tears when i say "its over.. goodnight" and the rest of your life i get mad at myself for not acting myself i get jealous at the thought of you out i dont want you to think that its all that im thinking about but goddamn i do and everytime that i hear someone laugh, it sounds just like you
