

Butterfly Boucher, Drift On

if the waters cool i might just swim,
if the sun shines right i might be here all day.
i drift away, in a sunken state
i'm busy lappin' it up, i might be here all day.

with the tides, and their little secrets, whispering me to sleep.
would you take away my weakness,
drift on, drift on.

if the waters cool, i might just swim
if the sun shines right i might be here all day
i drift away, in a sunken state
i'm busy lappin' it up, i might be here all day

with the ripples and their stories cooking up a storm
will you carry all my weakness,
drift on, drift on.

if the waters cool, i might just swim
i drift away in a sunken state
i'm busy lappin' it up, i might be here all day.

with the under current lurking,
watching sideways from afar, could you take away my weakness i'm not that strong.
you see i feel so heavy without you
and you say;

drift on, drift on, drift on.
drift on, mm hmm stay strong,
drift on.

if the waters cool i might just swim,
