Butterfly Boucher, Drift On

if the waters cool i might just swim, if the sun shines right i might be here all day. i drift away, in a sunken state i'm busy lappin' it up, i might be here all day.

with the tides, and their little secrets, whispering me to sleep. would you take away my weakness, drift on, drift on.

if the waters cool, i might just swim if the sun shines right i might be here all day i drift away, in a sunken state i'm busy lappin' it up, i might be here all day with the ripples and their stories cooking up a storm will you carry all my weakness, drift on, drift on.

if the waters cool, i might just swim i drift away in a sunken state i'm busy lappin' it up, i might be here all day.

with the under current lurking, watching sideways from afar, could you take away my weakness i'm not that strong. you see i feel so heavy without you and you say;

drift on, drift on, drift on. drift on, mm hmm stay strong, drift on.

if the waters cool i might just swim,
