

By Heart, Rebecca (How I Miss You)

Silent and still
Hospital-walls painted in green
There in your bed you look like a bird
Fragile and free

Oh, Rebecca I tear at you sheet
Answer me, please

How I miss you now in my blood
How I miss you now, all the time
How I miss you now, to dance around your smile
To walk with you for miles

Walk through the walls
Baby you're free like running water
Kiss you goodnight and secretly cry, over and out

How I miss you now in my blood
How I miss you now, all the time
How I miss you now, to dance around your smile
To walk with you for miles
