Byz, A Sad Story

I will only see the shadow of the man that i was before,
nothing real nothing anymore
Only hate in my eyes see red I was living in a dreamworld, with you girl always by my side you was there and I always tried, to give you everything you needed, anything you wanted, anything at all.
But then came that day when I saw you,
At the station he was there with you, you kissed him and hugged him,
you stood there so happy,
I dropped everything, I dropped our ring.
Then you saw my face and I saw your eyes, you ran over to me showered me with lies.
I saw tears rolling down your cheek, how could you don my love do?
You said you were sorry but what difference does it make?
You were everything to me.
But now I dont look your way cuz you took it away,
you are sorry but those tears don't mean nothing now,
you were everything to me.
But now you're only a girl alone in this world.
I will only see the shadow of the man that I was before,
nothing real nothing anymore,
only hate in my eyes see red, you said that it was nothing, he was a friend then you said goodbye.
Girl I know you, I know you lie and your friend told me more, more about him more about you.
Girl I know you lie cause I saw you, you said to me you went to work until the round two instead you kissed him and hugged him, you stood there so happy I stood there alone and my heart was my stone.
Then you saw my face and I remeber your eyes, remeber what you said remeber all those nights, remeber tears rolling down your cheek, but I can remeber that I loved you?
You said that you was sorry,but what different does it make?
You were everything to me.
But now I don`t look your way cuz you took it away,
you are sorry, but those tears don't me nothing now, you where everything to me.
But now you're only a girl alone in this world.
