

Byz, Why Do We Always Fight

Why can't only things be like they were
Its not the same when I no long can speak to her
I may be changed but so have she
Its like we're prisoners and we just cant get free
I see her eyes the same old eyes
But then she breaks me down and makes our feelings die

I got a life on my own
I have to be on my own sometimes
I have to stand on my own two feets and I know I treat her good
But why do we always fight
I cant look at you
I cant be with you tonight
And I know that this ain't right
Because I love you so but I have to go alone

Why can't only I for one just be
Its not the same when I no long can speak to him
I may be changed but so have he
Its like we've locked us up and thrown away the key
I see your smile the same old smile
But then he takes me down and make our feelings die

I got a life on my own
I have to be on my own sometimes
I have to stand on my own two feets cause I know I treat him good

But why do we always fight
I cant look at you
I cant be with you tonight
And I know that this ain't right
Because I love you so but I have to go alone
