

C-BooL, Fire In My Head (ft. Cadence XYZ)

There are days when I don't know what to do I sit in the sunlight, looking how the sky is blue Browsing the Instastory Where people show their glory But not you

such moments make me realize how quickly life escapes things make us too addicted the doctor will not help I'll throw a brand new day just with you

sometimes I really do not know why it's rather good and I feel bad I don't know whether to laugh or cry and then I only feel the fire in my head fire in my head

and then I only feel the fire in my head
fire in my head
and then I only feel the fire in my

there are days when I know exactly what to do I spend my time with people I spend my time with you that's all I need that day now I can feel ok.

it's rather good and I feel bad
I don't know whether to laugh or cry

and than only feel the
and than only feel the Fire in my
Fire in my
Fire, fire
Fire in my head

and then I only feel the fire in my head
fire in my head
and then I only feel the fire in my

that's all I need that day
now I can feel ok.

Fire in my head
