C21, When Your Love Is Too Far

Baby Im tired of thinking I was wrong Im lost with no sign A game with no end

Ive been there searching gold but suddenly You played with my mind Got words from behind

A promise is right babe I can believe in some No win by default in your life Im lost when youre mindless

How can I fall down

Baby when your love is too far There's no strength in my heart No will leads to distance Can you feel it now Your love is too far I swear but again The silence between us I can feel it now ooh yeah

Baby desire still relies on you Take a look at me now As it still lingers on

You let my feelings grow But honestly Im through with your game You cant always be right

A promise is sacred I can believe in some With you it's a million to one I'm lost cuz youre mindless But how can I fall down

Baby when your.

Maybe in another life babe I just want it good and real So you can beg, steal or lie babe but you don't know when
