

Cadaverous Condition, Time

and now our time comes
and now our time comes

there will come a time
we said
but time only goes the fading of the rainbow the closing of a rose

well make the time
we vowed but times already made impatient as the twilight elusive as the shade

and now our time comes
and now our time comes

well take the time
we both agreed
but time is only lived
the clock unwinds
and autumn leaves
run riot in the wind and time just slips away they say like golden grains of sand and the days and nights we held so tight escape from out our hands

and now our time comes
and now our time comes

and now our time comes
and now our time comes
and now it has gone
and now it has gone