

Cadaverous Condition, What The Moon Brings

now you don't see me I have closed my eyes but now I am lost you closed your eyes

despair dancing in my heart as I ran to escape my tears

I, I am alone, there is no God where I am rise, the memories now, I'm far away

feel, it's all so useless I, I blame life for all this

I'm jealous, coming to grief sometimes I'm not afraid sometimes I wish you my pain and sometimes I hate and if I was a cat

I would stare all the time with depth in my eyes right into your stars

time flashes in your eyes something bigger than life
