

Cage 9, Nobody's Home

"Nobody's Home

An' i know, yes i know that I'm the only one who is sticking around here.
But that's ok because I AM the only one who gives a shit about being here.
An' that's alright cuz I'm not alone but I can't deny this sinking feeling as I grow, cuz I'm here....

But nobody's home.

An' I dunno, yes i don't know, why the door is open wide n' still I find myself waiting right inside.
Everyday, I'm like in a cage but not exactly since I don't feel any rage.
Havin' fun I don't hate anyone but still I miss my home and still I miss the zone.
So why am I here...

When nobody's home?

People don't understand me.
They don't have nuthin' to say.
I don't feel nothing but free.
I don't have a home anyway.

Alright, where the hell we goin'?
Sit tight, there is no way of knowing.
Tonight, gotta keep the rhythm flowin'.
Come daylight, we'll be overflowin'.

Mom n' dad, where have you gone now?
Don't be sad you know I'll call you on the phone now.
I've no fear, no broken bones just livin' in a universe where nobody's home no.
We're comin' up, we'll make you proud.
Everything is gonna be alright I thought that you should know, just why we're here...
