

Calexico, Wash

Light shines through darker days eyes close and lose their way slip away the night while the whole town's asleep caught between the space where you wanted to be death acts and life reacts spent time turning looking back clues along the track leave the following kind the ground that seems to be new winding up the same every time