

Caliban, A Piece Of My Life

I feel breathe, live alone with my love, I gave it to you, I should have known, reality will never be a dream!
in my dreams I walk around, in the darkness of my ashes, always following your light, I feel no fear, cause your fire gives me safety my fire burns deep and ardent, but I radiate just coldness and hopeless helplessness, awkward, naive like a child everyday I fell reality, the reflection of the wide void I don't want to live, just want dream!
(my fire burns deep and ardent)
come on and play with me.
