Calla, It Dawned On Me

As far as I know Let it go 'cause it's never quite what it seems You should know but you don't 'cause you dropped yourself to your knees It dawned on me

See what I need to say please And there's no one else there but me You should know but you don't As it slaps you upside the face Now I see I believe by the bruise that adorns your cheek It dawned on me