

Camouflage, Heaven (I Want You)

When I look into your eyes
Then I know that life's worth living
Just without you
More or less there's nothing left to tell

All the years we shared our time
All the things we had in common
All the crisis
More or less we've nothing left to tell

All excuses, all your plights
All your nice ideas
Effusions of your mind
But I'll tell you for a thousand times

I want you going down
Just for one time
I want you going down
Going down to the place
Where you belong to

When I woke up in your arms
And I felt myself, I'm freezing
That's unusual
More or less there's nothing left that's warm

All the years we shared our dreams
Now I know it was a nightmare
Of your loving
More or less there's nothing left to loose

All excuses, all your plights
All your nice ideas
Effusions of your mind
But I'll tell you for a thousand times

I want you going down
Just for one time
I want you going down
Going down to the place
Where you belong to
