

Candice Alley, To Find You

I look you in the eye
Give you reasons to stay
Tell me why you have to go
Tell me why you wanna run away
Cause now youre on your own
And nothings going your way
But hes got reasons that she dont
And nothings gonna change
And she tells him but he knows
Thats nothings gonna change
When Ive been waiting for so long to find you
Its you that I need now
Ive been waiting for so long to find you
When its too much to handle
And everythings going wrong
And everybody has to know
When somethings gotta change
And dont you wanna be someone else
But its you that you cant change
But Ive been waiting for so long to find you
Its you that I need now
Ive been waiting for so long to find you
Its you that I need now
And I wonder where we are inside
Dont you know how I feel tonight
Its you that I need now
When Ive been waiting for so long to find you
Its you that I need now
Ive been waiting for so long to find you
Its you that I need now
Ive been waiting for so long
Its you that I need now
Ive been waiting for so long
Its you that I need now
