

Candie Payne, By Tomorrow

Still I can't stay forever
These memories on my mind
I know no one around me
Who can always be by my side

When I wake in the morning
My life just seems so far away
Deep down I know that this is
Gonna be just like yesterday

And my mind bears such strains
Right now
And my soul is torn in two
And I pray that by tomorrow
I will know just what to do

I've come so far my baby
But it's been so worth my while
I'd go further if need be
If only to see you smile

But my mind bears such strains
Right now
And my soul is torn in two
And I pray that by tomorrow
I will know just what to do
