

Candiria, Down To The Last Element

I cannot see it back shed my broken skin curse my blood, I react play yourself again
Up down and down again
Living on computers you're an instant man
Judged and told I can Cut my shallow hands

How can I please all of your needs
What do you see when you see me

I can't reach you
Step back, heard your point of view
Stand up, lay down no one
Take a piece of me with you
Step back, now that I know you
I know, you're down for no one

I bow down to no one
You lack the faith
Stand behind me, find your way
You know you will decide
Move on with me or stand aside
I could have lost my life
And I'm ready to risk it one more time

How can I please all of your needs
What do you see when you see me

I can't reach you
Step back, heard your point of view
Stand up, lay down for no one
Take a piece of me with you
Step back, now that I know you
I know, you're down for no one

Take a piece of me with you.
