

Cantatonia, My Selfish Gene

You, me and destiny
Guess that it was never meant to be
All you did was give me allergy
I'm not looking for your sympathy

You, me and destiny
I am courted by uncertainty
I've lost my will to live unselfishly
Altruism stinks of fallacy

My selfish gene it fills my spleen with bile

And all the while I thought you gave a damn

You, me and destiny
Guess that it was never meant to be
All you needed was some courtesy
And I'm not waiting for apologies

My selfish gene it fills my spleen with bile
And all the while I thought you gave a damn
Way back then I thought you'd give a damn
