

Cantatonia, New Mercurial Heights

Those two lights are one
With the brightest ever smile
No end, no way out
And no resolutions

One heady daze of fun
Do you follow the child around?
It was easy
It all came natural

And oh, it's no perfect day
No one could deny
He left, stolen away
I wish you could have seen him

To where you have been led
By that beating ache in your head
If you only knew
The world shines with you

A frenzied search for profit
For a future you couldn't have
You're tried and tired,
Now leave and disappear

And oh, it's no perfect day
No one could deny
He left, stolen away
I wish you could have seen him
