

Capewalk, Stay

Another day break, I'm waking up to the sound of yesterday Should I face it with a smile when the struggle starts again

I'm spinning in a wheel before I make a move This is way too real kind of a soul tattoo

Stay tonight
It's getting darker now, can you hear my calling
Be my guide
Lead me on somehow and pour some of your Love growing big when you waste it and I can taste it
I will be safe tonight
Stay tonight

I was told maybe tomorrow will bring about the change It's hard to understand when yesterday's news are the same

Again I realize how I'm lost on my own Please come down to my earth and take me home

Stay tonight
Come on over, come on over
Be my guide
Lead me on, lead me on
