

Carl Belew, Silent Partner

She was my silent partner I miss my silent partner
And I hope my silent partner's missing me
Once I was blind with ambition and ascribed for fame
The need for money seemed to ruin my mind
I was just too blind to see a girl I loved was helping me
And she'd been my silent partner all the time

She was my silent partner I love my silent partner
I never dreamed that she would set me free
She was my silent partner I miss my silent partner
And I hope my silent partner's missing me

Just when I thought I'd reach the top I started down and couldn't stop
And nobody seemed to care how far I'd fall
Losing her has made me see what lots of wealth has done to me
Yes I need my silent partner after all
She was my silent partner I miss my silent partner
And I hope my silent partner's missing me
