

Carlos Lyra, The Golden Touch Of Love

The golden touch of love
Will change the saddest song
Into a melody
That is sweet to sing

The golden touch of love
Will melt the coldest heart,
And make a simple smile
A very special thing

I had the coldest heart.
I sang the saddest song
There was no one's smile
I took notice of

But that was long ago
And it was only so
Before I knew
Your golden touch of love
