

Carlos Santana, Light Of Life

Light of Life

All the people I knew seem to have become one, and that one is you In your hands I find myself growing to be near my eternal goal
You are the sun, air and soil, helping grow

Life has found a way, at last showing me the true light, and that light is you In your hands I find myself glowing and embracing my eternal goal
You are the sun, moon and stars, helping glow
