

Cassie Steele, Mr.Colson

There aint nobody like you I ever met before now take a normal picture of life and you you mess it around youre just so complicated I wanna figure you out I wanna write you on paper so I can sing your song by mouth but more then I you are confused you dont know why your heads unscrewed maybe one day youll unbury the truth before you get to jaded and then you cant take it I am good for you
I know what you like and I like the same things that you do let me inside you if youd just open then wed be rollin in happiness, Mr.Colsen let me love you
its all about you dont care bout nobody else I wanna break your mirror down the world is more then yourself you live half your life and you fake the rest I fell for the hero you showed me Cause you had passed success but more then you I am confused you never care about when Im blue call me your girl and I call myself fool but I still protect you from whats against you I was good for you
I know what you believe I see the same way as you do but you closed me out of you
if youd just open
then wed be rollin in happiness, Mr. Colson let me love you if I cant have it wont waste my time grabbin wrote you down, grab it, never took you for granted I was inspired yes, im pleased with my mind's work ill sleep when im tired cause you started a fire yeah and now I can laugh cause I open a grab something youll never have yeah now I can laugh
but its a good thing that I didnt sink for a fool you were just my muse I got so much stories nothing can hold me till I find a new man Thats broken like Mr.
Colson
Thats broken like Mr. Colson Thats broken like Mr. Colson yeah But you have to break me, oh Mr. Colson
